Food for thought

You eat because it's good for a healthy body; right? Well, some foods can also be good for your studies! First, always eat breakfast. Beans and toast are a good choice for breakfast because beans have lots of protein, and protein is good for your brain. Next, be sure to eat some eggs every week. Eggs help you to remember things better. Lettuce is also good for remembering things, so eat lots of salad. Fish is also good for your memory, so if you have an exam, be sure to eat lots of fish. Yogurt is good for you if you're having a stressful day. Sugar is bad for your brain, so avoid sweet desserts. Try to eat some fruit instead.

	These foods are good for A. eggs and toast		C. toast and beans.
