Welcome to the Institute of Industrial and Systems Engineers, the world's leading community of respected professionals who represent the diverse spectrum of industrial and systems engineering from operations improvement and quality to productivity enhancement. You've made a smart investment in your future by becoming a member of IISE and joining an international universe of more than 15,000 productivity professionals.

Make the most of your membership by taking a few simple steps:

Step 1: Create your IISE Web site login. Using your member number, 880189207, you can create your own login name and password right from the IISE home page, www.iise.org.

Step 2: Verify your e-mail address with IISE. E-mail is a very effective tool for delivering membership information to you. From the recent Board of Trustees election and name change ballot to IISE Focus to renewal notices, we want to be in touch with you. Go online to www.iise.org/myiise and click on "Update Your Member Record" to make sure we have your correct e-mail address.

Step 3: Explore the IISE Web site. Once you've created your login, you can access member-only services like ISE magazine and the member directory.

You should have already received an e-mail introducing you to a few of IISE's member benefits. If you did not, please verify that we have your correct e-mail address. Should you have any questions about your membership or require more detail on a specific benefit, please contact the Member and Customer Support Team at (800) 494-0460, (770) 449-0460 or cs@iise.org.

Sincerely yours,

Joseph C. Hartman
